Community Cancer Support Project Manager

The Plymouth Cancer Support Project is a 3-year project, funded by Macmillan Cancer Support. The project is hosted by Zebra Collective and represents a close collaboration with community partners Age UK and the Wolseley Trust Social Prescribing team.

We are seeking an experienced project manager to be responsible for forming a small team whose collective ambition is to improve health inequalities for those most impacted by social injustice.

The project will explore community-based approaches to supporting people whose cancer outcomes and experiences are known to be the worst because of the unacceptable barriers they face (such as those living in areas of multiple disadvantage, minoritised communities etc)
